WENT TO MINOCQUA.

On Tuesday a number of citizens took advantage of the excursion to Minocqua to hear Col. Wm. J. Bryan speak, and these who made the trip were not sorry, even though it was a long journey and became a tiresome one before home was reached. Among those who attended from this city were L. M. Nash, Arthur S. Sikes, W. H. Barnes, W. H. Reeves, E. Oberbeck, F. L. Rourke, Albert Marceau, James Quashegroch, M. H. Lynn and the Tribune man. The train started from Babcock with one passenger, Editor B. E. Walters, of the Pittsville Pilot. At Nekeosa M. H. Lynn and A. H. Kleberg got aboard, and when the train left this city the eleven passengers had the seven coaches all to themselves and it looked as if the crowd would be slim. At Wausau, however, there was a delegation that made things look lively and each one wore a badge with a picture of the world renowned Bryan on it. At Merrill another crowd got on and the cars were pretty well filled. Tomahawk turned out a couple of hundred more and people were standing in the aisles, and when the whole town of Hartsburg got on, things were so crowded that one had to go out on the platform to change his mind.

The trip north was enlivened by several incidents worthy of mention. Arthur Sikes kindly furnished liquid refreshments for the entire excursion party, which was highly appreciated. L. M. Nash wanted to tell the crowd from here about some deer that he had killed along the line but the boys didn't seem to take much stock in his assertions, while County Clerk Reeves volunteered to give information about a Plymouth Rock bull that he had seen on one of his previous trips up the line. He even went so far as to state that the animal was covered with feathers, but the crowd seemed inclined to make light of his assertions so he also gave it up as a bad job.

When the train arrived at Minocqua about five o'clock the town was out en masse to receive the visitors and the cornet band tore off several spasms of lively music to help in the general welcome. Delegations were there from Antigo, Rhinelander, Star Lake and other points and it looked like a Fourth of July celebration. The town was decorated with flags and bunting while evergreens had been placed along the walks to give the place a more holiday appearance. The hotels were taxed to their utmost to accommodate the guests that had assembled to hear the great orator and the rush at the several hostilities of the city was kept up until nearly eight o'clock before all of the hungry ones had been served.

The platform on which Mr. Bryan spoke was erected on the shore of the lake and although that gentleman was not to appear until 7:30, the seats were pretty well filled an hour before this time. The evening was fine and the place an ideal one for an affair of this kind and was much more comfortable than a hall would have been had there been one to accommodate the crowd. Before the colonel appeared there were between three and four thousand people assembled impatiently waiting for the speech to commence and when Mr. Bryan did appear there was a tumultuous burst of applause that lasted for several minutes.

Mr. Bryan spoke for about an hour and a half and there was not a moment of that time in which the interest of his listeners lagged in the least. He laid down some facts on the money question that should have been heard by every man, woman and child in the country, for they were of interest to both democrats and republicans alike. The subject of trusts was also taken up and the applause of those present showed that the remarks struck home to a majority of the listeners. On expansion and imperialism he showed in his remarks, where the present administration was making a mistake in the policy pursued in the Philippines and certainly voiced the sentiment of the masses on this question. This question, in the opinion of the writer, will be one of considerable weight in the coming campaign and no one who is a true American can think otherwise than Mr. Bryan on the subject. All through Mr. Bryan's talk there was an undercurrent of wit and humor that never fails to entertain an audience, and which was highly appreciated by those present. After Col. Bryan had finished the crowd called for Col. Wetmore. Mr. Wetmore got up and stated that he was not a public speaker; just a plain business man, a manufacturer of tobacco, good tobacco, the best tobacco, and sat down. Mr. Ruggles, of La Crosse, then addressed the audience on political issues after which the meeting adjourned.

Minocqua, which a few days ago very few people knew anything about, has been made famous by Col. Bryan's stay there. The situation of the town for a summer resort is an ideal one. It is on a small piece of land that is only connected to the main land by a narrow strip, the lake being on all sides. There are several steam yachts plying the waters of the lake and the fishing is excellent. Although not large, there are a number of nice residences that show all the evidences of thrift. On the shore of the lake on the main land are numerous summer cottages built especially for this purpose and they are ideal resorts during the warm weather. Col. Bryan spoke very highly of the lake region as a place to spend the summer, it being his first trip to northern Wisconsin.

The train started for home about 11:30 and reached this city at 4 a. m. The crowd was a tired one but all were pleased that they had gone to hear the one of the greatest speakers that the country has ever known.

ONE CASE SETTLED.

MACK VS. CONSOLIDATED COMPANY.

His Stock now Owned by N. Johnson and J. D. Witter.—Some Chance of a Settlement of All the Cases.

Mr. N. Johnson went to Chicago on business on Sunday last and while there became the owner of all the stock owned by W. E. Mack in the Grand Rapids Water Power company, the Central Electric company, the Wisconsin Wood Pulp company and Mack & Spencer's interest in the Consolidated Water Power company. There were 303 shares included in the deal altogether and includes all the claims that Mr. Mack had in the riparian rights in this city.

The title of the suit that is settled by this deal was W. E. Mack vs. The Consolidated Water Power Company, and was brought by him to effect a withdrawal of his property from the consolidated company after having gone in with the rest.

The buying of Mr. Mack's interests means one step toward the settlement of the trouble and litigation that has been in progress and it is possible that should the others manifest the desire of an amicable settlement, the whole matter could be closed up in a short time. However, if the remainder interested maintain a desire to fight the matter in the courts it may drag along for a long time.

Blodgett's Stock Farm.

While at Marshfield last week, in company with L. M. Nash, W. E. Wheelan, W. H. Reeves, of this city, and A. E. Germer, of Dexterville, we had the pleasure of looking over the stock farm of C. E. Blodgett, located about one and one-half miles from Marshfield in the town of Lincoln. We were driven to the farm by Mr. Blodgett in his two-seated rubber tire trap, one of the finest turnouts in that city. Upon arriving there the first things that came to our view were the mammoth barns recently erected on the premises, and upon investigation found them to be modern and up-to-date in every respect. The sheep barn, cow barn, horse stable, pig sty, chicken coops, in fact every building about the place was of the most modern arrangement.

The stock on the farm, consisting of about 130 Shropshire sheep, 50 head of Shorthorn cattle, 40 Poland China hogs, several hundred Plymouth Rock chickens, are all of the best breeds, and as fine a looking lot as one would wish to see. Mr. Blodgett is also the owner of a Shorthorn bull, one of the finest bred animals in the United States. He was recently imported from Scotland and cost Mr. Blodgett $750.

Mr. Blodgett's farm consists of 556 acres of the best land in the state. A more enthusiastic farmer and stock-raiser than Mr. Blodgett cannot be found anywhere. He shows the place to visitors with as much pride as a mother would her first-born babe.

Mr. Blodgett spares neither pains or money in fitting up and stocking his farm, and if his enthusiasm holds out it will not be long before he will have one of the finest stock farms in the United States.

Editors Itinerary.

The Wisconsin State Press association is scheduled to visit this city on July 16th. They will leave Kibbourn City on the morning of the 16th and arrive at Nekoosa at 11:00 o'clock, where they will remain for forty-five minutes, which time will be spent in looking over the mammoth mill of the Nekoosa Paper Co. They will arrive in this city at 12:00 o'clock noon and remain here until the following morning, when they will leave for Wausau at 8:00 o'clock.

From the itinerary it will be seen that the editors will be the guests of this city Monday afternoon and night and every citizen of Grand Rapids should assist all in their power in entertaining the newspaper men and those who will accompany them.

The matter of entertainment is now in the hands of a committee from the Business Men's association and the Ladies Auxiliary, who are putting forth their best endeavors to entertain the coming visitors in a royal manner, therefore it is the duty of all to assist this committee in making the necessary preparations for the reception of the journalists.

G. A. R. Department Officers.

At West Superior, last Thursday, David G. James, of Richland Center, was elected department commander of the G. A. R. by a vote of 119 to 102 for Judge Hoyt, of Chippewa Falls. J. H. Agen, of West Superior, was elected senior vice commander; P. H. Saylor, of Green Bay, junior vice commander; D. G. Sanborn, of Manawa, captain. Mrs. Myria Grinnell, of Beloit, was elected president of the Women's Relief Corps; Mrs. Jones, of Milwaukee, president of the Ladies of the G. A. R.; J. W. Ames, of River Falls, commander of the Sons of Veterans. Commander James appointed J. C. McFarland, of Richland Center, assistant adjutant general.

County Court.

At a regular session of probate court held last Tuesday the following matters were heard by Judge Gaynor. Appointment of Frank A. Cady as special guardian of the heirs of Wm. Moran. Bond filed and approved. Petition of Wm. Scott and wife for adoption of August Maurer, an infant filed and order pursuant to petition directing adoption, and changing name to Whitney Scott.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

A Number of People Suffer Accidents During the Past Week.

Albert Semrow met with an accident at the saw mill of the Grand Rapids Lumber Co., last Tuesday, by a log rolling upon him, which resulted in breaking his right leg below the knee and also fracturing a rib.

Herman, the three-year-old son of C. P. Wachter, fell off the porch at his home and broke his collar bone, on Saturday of last week.

While Paul, the little son of Julius Engel, of the town of Port Edwards, was playing with other companions, he fell to the ground and fractured his left arm.

Frank, the 14-year-old son of C. H. Finley, of Pittsville, was thrown from a broncho, on Sunday last, and sustained a fracture of the lower jaw bone.

Chas. Knipple, the well known farmer of the town of Grant, Portage county, was kicked by a horse on Wednesday of this week and the accident resulted in the breaking of three of his ribs.

Looking for His Boy.

James L. Packard, of Stevens Point was here on Wednesday evening looking for his 16 year old son, who had left home that same day, and whom the father thought had come to this home to avoid a whipping which he expected from his father and after he had gone a sum of money amounting to $4.50 was found missing. The boy's father did not know whether the young fellow had taken this money or not, but supposed that he did. The boy left on a bicycle and was followed in the same manner by his father who was only a short distance behind. Nothing was heard of the boy in this city and the father made a trip to Nekoosa thinking the young fellow might have gone down there to stop with some friends of the family. He had not been there, however, and Mr. Packard returned home Thursday morning without hearing anything from him.

School Entertainment.

The entertainment given Thursday night by SS. Peter and Paul school at the opera house was well attended by an appreciative audience. The young people acquitted themselves in fine style and the applause that greeted each number showed that all were interested in the proceedings. "The Surprise" by little boys and girls was a number that showed much careful training, the participants being all small but still were letter perfect in their lines, also the action song, "Snaking Quakers." The music of Will and Orson Cochran was of a high order and well rendered. The vocal duet, "Dat Water Melon," was one that caught the young folks and was entered into with spirit by the boys. The drill and song "Columbia" was also a good number and illustrative of the many nationalities that go to make up our great nation. A neat little sum was netted by the entertainment.

Woodmen Picnic.

About fifty people from this city took advantage of the excursion rates and attended the Modern Woodmen picnic held at New Lisbon last Wednesday. Hirzy's orchestra went down and played for a dance in the evening. The Grand Rapids base ball team also went down and in the afternoon crossed bats with the Mauston team. Our boys won the game by a score of 12 to 11. The Grand Rapids team consisted of the following players: Lipke, Corcoran, Urbach, Martin, Bendein, Demitz, Delap, Brennan, Halvorsen.

They Have Sheepskins.

Theo. W. Brazeau and Fred Alexander, of this city, are now possessors of sheepskins for the practice of law, they having graduated from the law department of the state university this week. Mr. Brazeau was one of the commencement orators, one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon a student. Mr. Alexander left Wednesday with the university boat crew for Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where they will pull oars against the boat crews of Yale, Cornell, Harvard and Princeton.

Lost Her Watch.

Miss Minnie Vanderhei lost her watch in the river while crossing the bridge on Tuesday. The timepiece, which was a gold one, was fastened to the front of her waist and in brushing a bug from her dress the fastening was loosened and it fell to the walkway and rolled into the river. Some of the boys attempted to recover the watch by diving, but have not done so up to the present time. They report the bottom of the river full of rocks so that it is almost impossible to find so small an object.

Going to Green Bay.

Fourteen members of the Maennerchor of this city left for Green Bay on Friday to attend the saengerfest. These comprised mostly the singing portion of the organization, but on Sunday a large number will take advantage of the excursion to put in one day at the gathering. Green Bay citizens have been making great preparations for the event and there is no doubt that those who attend will be royally entertained.

Auction.

J. L. Harvey will offer for sale at auction near the market square household goods, piano, carriages, etc., many articles nearly new, great bargains, beginning June 26.

BRYAN IN THE CITY

A SHORT SPEECH AT THE DEPOT

The Noted Orator Listened to by Over Two Thousand People.—Many Shake His Hand.

Col. William Jennings Bryan passed through this city last evening, arriving here at 10:06 and remaining about 15 minutes. Mr. Bryan and party were on their way home from an outing at Minocqua.

When the train pulled in at this station about 2500 people were at the depot to catch a glimpse of and to hear this noted orator speak. As the rear coach on the train rolled along and stopped at the end of the depot platform where the bulk of the crowd stood in waiting, Mr. Bryan stepped out upon the car platform and greeted the large assemblage with a smile and a wave of the hand, which was responded to by cheer after cheer from the crowd. Upon the car platform with Mr. Bryan stood the familiar figures of L. M. Nash and D. D. Conway, who had gone to Wausau on the six o'clock train to meet Mr. Bryan and accompany him as far as this city. Mr. Bryan talked to the people for about 15 minutes. He had not the time to go into details on the leading political issues but brought out a few facts which are sound and gave those present something to think about and study on. The crowd wasn't very demonstrative. They didn't have the time. They wanted to hear every word Mr. Bryan uttered, but when the train started they gave him a rousing cheer and many followed the car for a short distance shaking hands with and throwing bouquets at him.

NEW TELEPHONE LINES.

Marshfield Will Soon be the Telephone Hub of the State.

Marshfield will soon be connected by telephone with Wausau, Grand Rapids and intermediate points. At a meeting of the local company on Monday evening contracts were entered into with the Marathon County Telephone company and John A. Gannon representing a Grand Rapids company for terminal privileges here. A line will at once be built from Wausau to this city by way of Marathon, Edgar, Fenwood and Stratford, with a spur line to Mosinee and another to Ashland. Also from Grand Rapids via Pittsville, Vesper, Arpin, Bethel, to Marshfield. When these lines are completed this will be the telephone hub of the state as it is now the railroad center. Telephone subscribers will be in direct communication with over 1000 telephones in the various cities and towns on the system. It is expected that the two lines will be completed before snow flies. The Marshfield Telephone Co. will receive the benefit of the service mentioned without expense and without a bonus. The local company will collect tolls and receive a certain percentage of commission. The contracts hold for a period of twelve years.—Marshfield News.

Saloon Licenses Granted.

All of the applications for saloon license, consisting of twenty, were granted on Monday evening at the meeting of the special committee appointed for that purpose. This is the same number as granted last year. Nate Anderson will go into Chas. Briere's old stand and Mike Dolan will take the stand now run by Fisher Bros. These changes take effect July 1st.

Exciting Runaway.

The team driven by Frank Stahl ran away on Wednesday, starting from the water tank near the city hall and running up Water street. They were brought to a standstill in front of the Pioneer Pulp Co.'s office by striking a telephone pole, knocking one of the horses down, breaking the harness and damaging the wagon somewhat. Nobody was hurt.

Still Very Ill.

Mrs. H. W. Remington, who was injured in this city last week, is reported as lying in a critical condition at her home in Babcock, where she was taken on the same evening of the accident. The hip bone was terribly shattered and bruised and it is doubtful if she recovers from the effects of the most unfortunate accident.

Al. Menier has been engaged by the street committee as foreman of the sewer crew. Work on the sewer is progressing slowly at present on account of rock and logs, the diggers having to blast and cut their way through a portion of the street lying between the M. & S. E. and St. Paul tracks.

RAILROAD A CERTAINTY.

No Doubt That the New Line Will Be Built from Princeton.

It is the general belief that the new railroad will be built from Princeton to Marshfield. About fifty surveyors are at work on the proposed ground mapping out the route, etc., and it will only be a short time when this is completed. It is also thought that the road will be constructed this summer owing to the energy that is displayed at the start in. Vice President Whitman of the Northwestern road has announced that the road would certainly be built at once and will be a part of the Northwestern's great system.

Nothing has been given out as to whether the new road would buy the Marshfield & Southeastern or not, but this would seem the most feasible plan to outsiders, as the new road would cover about the same ground as the old one now does.

Rededication of Unity Church.

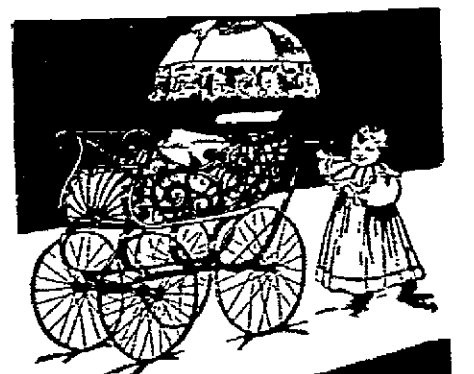

This special service will be on Thursday evening next, June 23rd, at 7:45. Rev. Judson Titsworth of Milwaukee will be the preacher. We anticipate a large audience will gather to hear this eminent and widely known divine. He has been pastor of the Plymouth church, Milwaukee, eighteen years and has taken a prominent part in all the affairs of the state, being a leader of thought and strong advocate of ecclesiastical freedom. There will also be a select musical program.

GRAY

Why let all your neighbors and friends think you must be twenty years older than you are? Yet it's impossible to look young with the color of 70 years in the hair. It's sad to see young persons look prematurely old in this way. Sad because it's all unnecessary; for gray hair may always be restored to its natural color by using—

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expect from this Vigor, write the Doctor about it.

HONOR DUE THE PEN.

But in the Matter of Hero Worship the Sword Gets it.

Julian Ralph is so widely known as a newspaper correspondent, and is so popular as a man both in and out of his chosen profession, that the news from London that he has returned from the scene of the Transvaal war almost a physical wreck, with such injuries to one of his legs that amputation may be necessary, causes distraction to all his friends in this city, where he lived so long and did such splendid work. The humorous way in which Mr. Ralph describes his injuries and sufferings is characteristic of the man. Surely he is the stuff of which heroes are made.

If he had been a soldier he would return home to have laurel wreaths put on his brow and his breast loaded with medals and ribbons; but he is only a newspaper man, and the sacrifice he has made to the stern duties of his hard and exacting profession does not gain the popular applause which is the reward of the soldier. The pen man is not given the sword, but when it comes to hero worship the sword gets it every time.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Seedless Fruit.

Apples, pears, grapes and other fruits produce seedlings at times that are useless or seedless. As a general rule, in these cases the resultant fruit is smaller than in normal condition. The value of these abnormal forms depends on the uses to which they may be put. No special value has resulted from the seedless apples or pears. In the grape the seedless quality is a desirable feature in the fruit, but it is a disadvantage in the seedling. The seedling is a valuable place in the nursery.—Mechan's Monthly.

The Press Never Surrenders.

There is scarcely any record of any siege of importance in which the press has capitulated so long as there was a square yard of brown paper or canvas to feed it with. During the famous siege of Vicksburg in the Civil war the Daily Citizen came up sailing to the very last day, when it was reduced to a diet of wall paper.

Libby, McNeill & Libby.

Housekeepers frequently feel the need of luncheon meats which are either ready to serve or can be prepared for the table at a moment's notice. Such a need is abundantly supplied in the superior meats put up by the old reliable house of Libby, McNeill & Libby, Chicago, one of whose specialties is advertised in another column of this paper, and their booklet, "How to Make Good Things to Eat," is offered free on application.

The Sculptured Gods in Khaki.

In a northern suburb I noticed that several statues which adorn certain villa gardens have been painted khaki. This morning, within a comparatively small area, I perceived two Mercurys, a Laocoon group, an Achilles, an Aphrodite, a Hercules, all resplendent in the popular hue.—St. James Gazette.

What Do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing, and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute among them. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about 1/4 as much. All grocers sell it. 15c and 25c.

IN GRAY NEW YORK.

Scenes and Incidents of Everyday Life in the Paris of America.

THE KHAKI CRAZE.
Her attitude was soldier-like—She had a khaki pose. A khaki hat, some khaki boots, and also khaki clothes. Her what made my young tender heart feel like a most violent throes. Was that I saw she had khaki breeches upon her now?—Pan.

FREE LUNCH.
The long-haired poet has a scheme: Hunger he no longer feels; His room is above a restaurant And he now inhales his meals.—Chicago News.

Bettina Girard has appeared in the Lion Palace Roof garden for the first time in public since her severe illness. She seemed like her old self.

The craze for jeweled effects has reached even slippers, and all slippers are decorated with buckles as ornate as the lady's dress. They may be small, they may be large, they may be brilliant or turquoise, but buckles there must be of some sort.

When Mayor Van Wyck of New York met Col. John F. Gaylor the other day he said: "Ah, colonel, how do you do? I see you and I am getting our names in the paper a good deal of late," to which the quick colonel replied: "Yes, so I-C-E." Mr. Van Wyck did not think this as funny as others who heard it.

The electric light as adapted to candlesticks is an old story. A rather new idea is, however, introduced in a cut-glass fruit dish that has some tiny electric lamps, deftly fixed in such a way as to bring out all the brilliancy of the cut-glass and the coloring of the fruit without betraying the method of their introduction.

"Seedier dinners" will not do in New York any more than in New York, it seems. Henry Negbauer of that city, on coming of age, gave a dinner to some New York friends lately, at which some questionable features were provided, and, as the quick colonel replied: "Yes, so I-C-E." Mr. Van Wyck did not think this as funny as others who heard it.

Mrs. Russell Sage met with a peculiar accident. After having been out shopping she returned to her home, 506 Fifth avenue. She carried her own bundles, and rang the doorbell to be admitted. The wire to the bell broke and Mrs. Sage fell backward down the stone steps. She fell upon one of the bundles she carried, and, therefore, escaped serious injury. It is feared, however, that her left arm is sprained.

One of the events of the season in Paris was the ball given by the Comtesse de Ganay. The comtesse, who is very wealthy, is the daughter of a South American banker. She married the Comte de Ganay, well known in America, which he visited some years ago. The Comte de Ganay is half an American, his mother being a Miss Ridgeway of Philadelphia. Mrs. John Jacob Astor, who is a cousin, was one of the guests at the ball.

Fanny Ward, the American actress, who served as a barmaid at the opening of the National bazaar in London, succeeded in selling Manhattan cocktail at what is undoubtedly the record price. It was a matter of thirst and a great crush of patrons, and when Miss Ward found so many waiting to be served she decided she would wait on the highest bidder first. When the price was run up to such a point the offerer that sang his cocktail first.

When you buy your steamer rug this summer you should insist on its being of Scotch plaid pattern. If you wish to be strictly in fashion, a rug is indispensable for comfort on an ocean voyage, and it is just as easy to have one of the prevailing style as not, provided one has to buy a new one. There are rugs of other patterns in the New York stores, one of striking design being in black and white diamonds, but the Scotch plaid is the favorite, judging by the number of them placed on exhibition.

The modern skyscrapers in New York are responsible for a new disease. Physicians call it "elevator heart." It is confined to elevator conductors. Several men who follow this occupation have died lately of heart failure, and medical men declare that it was sudden ascent and descent all day long which affected the heart. The faster the elevator goes the greater the danger. The air in the bottom of the shaft in a high building is more dense than at the top and the rapid change from one to the other has a weakening tendency.

Two of the coolest spots in downtown New York in summer time are the church yards of Trinity and St. Paul's. Inside the thick brown walls a dense and quiet coolness prevails, and many a passerby snatches a few moments from the noonday lunch hour to step inside the hallowed walls and forget the noise and heat of the busy street outside. The stone walks in the shadow of the churches and the steps of the various entrances are well peopled during the midday hours by men and girls, who find a pleasant shelter under the protecting walls of these two old-time churches.

The Mexican Herald reports an accident to Prince Poniatowski of Poland and Mexico, well-known in the most exclusive society circles of Newport and New York. The Prince received from friends in America a new revolver of the most complicated design. He didn't know it was loaded, and carelessly snapped the hammer. The bullet discharged carried away the fleshy part of the Prince's nose. He is not dangerous, but his good looks are spoiled. Prince Poniatowski was two seasons ago one of the stars of Newport society. He comes of an ancient Polish family and is highly connected among the Imperialists of Mexico.

A suggestion of summer is found in the new toys the sidewalk fakirs of Union square and Fourteenth street exhibit these days. The favorite is a mechanical bug, which moves its eight straggling legs deliberately over the flagstones and shakes its antennae at the same time, in a painfully natural manner. The creature looks like a potato bug, but it might be something else. At all events, it reminds the city dweller that such things are abroad in the country, and hence that summer really is here at last. The sidewalk peddlers procure most of these clockwork toys and other queer things, they sell from an individual known far and wide as the King of the Fakirs, who has a little warren downtown, and has made a fortune by being shrewd enough to sell the right thing at just the right time.

The last society recruit to the stage is a friend and protégé of McKimley. Her name is Anne Whiting Huntington. Miss Huntington has joined the "Maudie" (Awkins) company. It is not a big part that she plays, but she throws herself into it with much enthusiasm. No family in Ohio enjoys more consideration than hers. The Huntingtons rank with the Whitmans as the bluest blooded of people in the Buckeye state. A daughter of the Revolution and member of several other socially important organizations, Miss Huntington commands an entrée into the best homes of the land. Her family and that of President McKimley are on a footing of the closest friendship. The Huntington family are together constantly. The President takes a warm, fatherly interest in his young townsman, and his invalid wife esteems none of her friends more highly.

Mrs. Constance Blood has obtained a divorce from her husband, Neptune Blood, at London, England. Blood, who is a brother of Lady Colin-Campbell, gained considerable notoriety in this country and England through his connection with the abduction of Gladys Ferox in July, 1899, by her mother, Mrs. Lydia Perot, the divorced wife of William Yates Perot of Baltimore. Prior to the abduction Mrs. Perot, who had been living in England since her divorce, suddenly appeared in Baltimore and married the man who had abducted her father-in-law, William H. Perot, to her children, Yates and Gladys, who had been entrusted to his care under the provision of the decree. The same night Mrs. Perot, who had persuaded Mr. Perot to allow Gladys to spend the night with her, took the child to New York, where she met Blood at the Waldorf-Astoria, and through his assistance managed to escape to England. On her arrival in England she was arrested on the charge of abduction. The matter was finally suitably compromised.

The women's hotel which has been discussed for many years in New York seems now a certainty. The necessary funds have been raised with the exception of $50,000, and it is practically certain that this amount will be forthcoming in time to make the enterprise entirely successful. One institution of this kind exists in New York today on a very moderate scale. It is found impossible to admit all the women who seek quarters there, and in order that its usefulness may not be lost much limited space is allowed to stay only a certain time. At the expiration of the period they are permitted to remain, unless the room they occupy has already been engaged by a newcomer. As that is almost invariably the case, the length of time that a woman may remain in the building is very positively limited in effect by the high rent. There is no season of the year in which the house is not full, and the applications for rooms are at all times much in excess of the possible accommodations. In spite of its low prices and its purely philanthropic purpose, the house is self-supporting, and for that reason promoters of the new women's hotel feel that it will be a financial as well as a social success.

The Sultan's Barbarous Capital.

European ladies constantly run away with the idea that Constantinople is a civilized town, and act accordingly. That they are astonished when something disagreeable happens, and continually on hears of ladies being hustled, pinched, kissed by Turkish soldiers. Just lately there have been several cases. It must be remembered that the soldiers are recruited from the wildest tribes in Asia Minor, where woman is considered an inferior creature, who must give way to man besides being trained to avoid him on all possible occasions. One can easily imagine that such a soldier is astonished to see a European lady unveiled, boldly expecting him to give way to her, or, at any rate, not avoiding him, and he naturally takes it to be an advance on his part. Ladies have often told me they have been pushed by soldiers into the gutter, and I have nearly always found that it is simply as I have explained, that neither makes way for the other, with the result that the lady, being the weaker, comes to grief.—London Telegraph.

GIRLHOOD, WOMANHOOD AND MOTHERHOOD

Are Renovated, Regulated and Restored by the Pelvic Catarrh Remedy, Peruna.

Mrs. E. C. Everly, 505 Diamond street, Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I feel well, never felt better, thanks to your attention and Peruna. I will be glad to do all I can in the way of advancing the sale of your valuable medicine. I do think Peruna the best medicine I have tried at any time. Since I began taking Peruna we have never been without it."

Read what an elderly woman says—a woman who has passed through all the phases, crises and experiences of girlhood, womanhood and motherhood: "I really believe that every woman in the world ought to have Peruna on hand all the time; for, if she gets nervous, it soothes her; if despondent, it cheers and invigorates. It is a panacea for all irregularities of her monthly periods."

"It is a constant friend to the expectant mother; a never-failing stand-by to the nursing mother, both for herself and for her child, and finally, when the change of life comes on, no medicine on earth is of equal efficacy to the woman in this critical period. Surely Peruna is the woman's friend. This is no maudlin flattery, but the simple, plain truth of the matter."

Miss Bertha E. Sargent writes: "I can scarcely find words to express my gratitude to you for all your kindness to me. We have used Peruna in our family for the past year and find it a wonderful medicine. It has robbed the grave of one victim, for I was in a critical condition when I wrote you before. Thanks to you, however, my health is fully restored and am better than I have been for five years. I cannot say too much in favor of your medicine."

"If you can use any words of mine to assist you in your work I will only be too glad. I wish every young lady in our town could read your book. There would be a great deal less sickness and puny women."

Origin of the Word "Deadhead."
The origin of the word "deadhead" is suggested by Frederick Statius in a discovery he made recently in a museum in Naples. Among the relics were several tickets to the different parts of the Pompeian theater, made in little images, a pigeon admitting to the last tier and a skull serving as our passes. As the top gallery of an Italian theater is today called the "pigeon loft," Mr. Statius thinks that the skull for free admission is the origin of the expression "deadhead."—Baltimore News.

A Novel Suggestion.

It is suggested that it will be profitable to try the experiment of using gas engines for driving ships, the gas being generated in the vessel itself. Coal will be roasted in retorts aboard the ship in order to drive off the gas from the engines. The coke thus produced would furnish the fuel needed to roast the coal.

Cheese Factories in the States.

There are about 4000 cheese factories in the United States in addition to several hundred creameries making cheese in small quantities. The total output of cheese last year was 255,600,000 pounds. Of this amount about 25,000,000 pounds were produced in New York state.

The Teeth in the Bible.

A Kensington dentist, who is likewise a pillar of the church, consulted the Scriptures some time ago in search of a suitable passage to advertise his business, says the Philadelphia Record, and came across the following from the Song of Solomon vi. 6: "Thy teeth are as a flock of sheep that go up on the washing, whereof every one reacheth twins, and there is not one barren among them." This quotation he embroidered on his sign, and when his pastor remonstrated with him the dentist explained that the lines were applicable, as the teeth he referred to were "sheep teeth," or the first teeth that grow in a child's mouth, every one of which is succeeded by two other teeth of the second growth. The dentist is authority for the statement that there are only two other references of teeth in the Bible.

A DEAD LIVER

He thinks he lives, but he's a dead one. No person is really alive whose liver is dead. During the winter most people spend nearly all their time in warm, stuffy houses or offices or workshops. Many don't get as much exercise as they ought, and everybody knows that people gain weight in winter. As a rule it is not sound weight, but means a lot of flabby fat and useless, rotting matter staying in the body when it ought to have been driven out. But the liver was overburdened, deadened—stopped work. There you are, with a dead liver, and spring is the time for resurrection. Wake up the dead! Get all the fifth out of your system, and get ready for the summer's trials with clean, clear blood, body, brain free from bile. Force is dangerous and destructive unless used in a gentle persuasive way, and the right plan is to give new strength to the muscular walls of the bowels, and stir up the liver to new life and work with CASCARETS, the great spring cleaner, disinfectant and bowel tonic. WENT TO MINOCQUA.

On Tuesday a number of citizens took advantage of the excursion to Minocqua to hear Col. Wm. J. Bryan speak, and those who made the trip were not sorry, even though it was a long journey and became a tiresome one before home was reached. Among those who attended from this city were L. M. Nash, Arthur Sickles, W. H. Barnes, W. H. Reeves, E. Oerbeck, F. L. Rourke, Albert Marceau, James Quashebrock, M. H. Lynn and the Tribune man. The train started from Babcock with one passenger, Editor B. E. Walters, of the Pittsville Pilot. At Nekoosa M. H. Lynn and A. H. Kleberg got aboard, and when the train left this city the eleven passengers had the seven coaches all to themselves and it looked as if the crowd would be slim. At Wausan, however, there was a delegation that made things look lively and each one wore a badge with a picture of the world renowned Bryan on it. At Merrill another crowd got on and the cars were pretty well filled. Tomshawk turned out a couple of hundred more and people were standing in the aisles, and when the whole town of Hazelhurst got on, things were so crowded that one had to go out on the platform to change his mind.

The trip north was enlivened by several incidents worthy of mention. Arthur Sickles kindly furnished liquid refreshments for the entire excursion party, which was highly appreciated. L. M. Nash wanted to tell the crowd from here about some deer that he had killed along the line but the boys didn't seem to take much stock in his assertions, while County Clerk Reeves volunteered to give information about a Plymouth Rock bull that he had seen on one of his previous trips up the line. He even went so far as to state that the animal was covered with feathers, but the crowd seemed inclined to make light of his assertions so he also gave it up as a bad job.

When the train arrived at Minocqua about five o'clock the town was out en masse to receive the visitors and the cornet band tore off several spasms of lively music to help in the general welcome. Delegations were there from Antigo, Rhinelander, Scar Lake and other points and it looked like a Fourth of July celebration. The town was decorated with flags and bunting while evergreens had been placed along the walks to give the place a more holiday appearance. The hotels were taxed to their utmost to accommodate the guests that had assembled to hear the great orator and the rush at the several hostilities of the city was kept up until nearly eight o'clock before all of the hungry ones had been served.

The platform on which Mr. Bryan spoke was erected on the shore of the lake and although the gentleman was not to appear until 7:30, the seats were pretty well filled an hour before this time. The evening was fine and the place an ideal one for an affair of this kind and was much more comfortable than a hall would have been had there been one to accommodate the crowd. Before the orator appeared there were between three and four thousand people assembled impatiently waiting for the speech to commence and when Mr. Bryan did appear there was a tumultuous burst of applause that lasted for several minutes.

Mr. Bryan spoke for about an hour and a half and there was not a moment of that time in which the interest of his listeners lagged in the least. He laid down some facts on the money question that should have been heard by every man, woman and child in the country for they were of interest to both democrats and republicans alike. The subject of trusts was also taken up and the applause of those present showed that the remarks struck home to a majority of the hearers. On expansion and imperialism he showed in his remarks where the present administration was making a mistake in the policy pursued in the Philippines and certainly voiced the sentiment of the masses on this question. This question, in the opinion of the writer, will be one of considerable weight in the coming campaign and no one who is a true American can think otherwise than Mr. Bryan on the subject. All through Mr. Bryan's talk there was an undercurrent of wit and humor that never fails to entertain an audience, and which was highly appreciated by those present.

After Col. Bryan had finished the crowd called for Col. Wetmore. Mr. Wetmore got up and stated that he was not a public speaker; just a plain business man, a manufacturer of tobacco, good tobacco, the best tobacco, and sat down. Mr. Ruggles, of La Crosse, then addressed the audience on political issues after which the meeting adjourned.

Minocqua, which a few days ago very few people knew anything about, has been made famous by Col. Bryan's stay there. The situation of the town for a summer resort is an ideal one. It is on a small piece of land that is only connected to the main land by a narrow strip, the lake being on all sides. There are several steam yachts plying the waters of the lake and the fishing is excellent. Although not large, there are a number of nice residences that show all the evidences of thrift. On the shore of the lake on the main land are numerous summer cottages built especially for this purpose and they are ideal resorts during the warm weather. Col. Bryan spoke very highly of the lake region as a place to spend the summer. It being his first trip to northern Wisconsin.

The train started for home about 11:30 and reached this city at 4 a. m. The crowd was a tired one but all were pleased that they had gone to hear the one of the greatest speakers that the country has ever known.

VESPER.

It isn't as enjoyable as one might expect to be called out or bed about 11 o'clock at night and chased around in your shirt-sleeves(?) after stray cattle as your scribe did last week, in order to protect a few beds of radishes and lettuce. There is an ordinance in this town which politely requests everyone to keep his cattle pastured and if the people would do it it would save many hard feelings and a few(?) cuss words.

There is nothing succeeds like success. This is aptly illustrated in the business of the Vesper Creamery. Since Mr. Otto, the owner, started with 200 or 300 pounds of milk and in about two years has increased it to 4,000 pounds and over. It is all due to his energy and square dealings.

We understand that the boys about town are getting up a gun club. They have a promise of twelve or fifteen members. "Twil not be long after they set into practice until they will challenge the town, we suppose."

Geo. Hamilton, a resident of this town for the past two years, has pulled up stakes and moved to Iowa. We are sorry to lose you, George, but we wish you good luck.

A. Dunkin, the man who has charge of the Vesper hostelry for the past year or more, has vacated and moved into the house formerly occupied by Geo. Hamilton.

It has been pretty dry hereabouts and the crops are not going to be near as good as they were a year ago. Still we are all thankful for a two-thirds crop.

There is a fine opening here for a good blacksmith. One who isn't afraid to work and will attend strictly to business will find all he can do.

Would not Suffer so Again for Fifty Times its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. WILLSON, Liveryman, Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by Johnson & Hill Co.
